Titles one of wrestler Dake's many routines

By Doug Williams
Special to ESPN.com

If Kyle Dake were playing basketball for Kentucky or football for Alabama, his name would be known from Hartford to Honolulu.

In his sport, Dake is excellence personified, a three-time national champion who would achieve legendary status with a fourth title in March.

But Dake's sport is wrestling, so even though he's undefeated over two seasons, has a 127-4 career record and has been compared to the best collegians of all time, Dake is mostly in the dark.

The media spotlight shines on sky-walking dunks and breakaway touchdown runs, not on sweaty guys in skimpy singlets wearing little hubcaps over their ears.

"It would be really cool to get a ton of national media and get a segmented time on ESPN and stuff like that, but it's never been like that," says Dake, a senior at Cornell. "Right now it's not the way the cards fell, and I'm not too worried about it. I'll shine in March."

That's when Dake will attempt to win a fourth straight title, something that's been done only twice in Division I wrestling, which dates to 1928. And Dake would be the first to do it without a redshirt year.

Already, Dake has gone where no other grappler has gone before, winning three championships in three weight classes -- 141 pounds as a freshman, 149 as a sophomore and 157 as a junior -- and is ranked No. 1 at 165 pounds this season.

But those are all just the numbers.

It's how he's achieved them that is much more interesting.

First, don't call them superstitions. They're routines.

Every morning since he came to Cornell, Dake has picked up his notebook and written a goal: to be the NCAA champion. He's done it during the season, in the offseason and in the summer. He never takes a day off. And under the goal, he outlines what he'll do that day to achieve it. The only thing that's changed in four years has been the weight class.

says. "Having a routine makes sure that you know you're warmed up and you're ready to go. If you do something different every time, you could have a different match result."

Really, only one thing has changed: no more blueberry bagels.

For his first seasons at Cornell, Dake had the same post weigh-in, postmatch snack, a blueberry bagel with cream cheese. These days, he's junked the bagels in favor of a couple of Clif Bars and a Gatorade, or perhaps a turkey sandwich.

"I just kinda got sick of them," he says, laughing.

Dake, the son and grandson of wrestlers who also coached -- his dad was an All-American at Kent State who later worked with Koll at Cornell -- began wrestling at age 4.

At first he loved it for the fun, but then he was captivated by the one-on-one combat. Whatever happens in a match, positive or negative, it's all on him.

There was no question he wanted to wrestle at Cornell, for its success, facilities, coaches and the Ivy League education.

"It was a pretty clear-cut choice," says Dake, who's an Academic All-American and a member of Cornell's exclusive Quill and Dagger Society.

Koll thought Dake might be something special when he saw how quickly he progressed. In the summer before Dake entered Cornell, Koll saw him lose badly to one of the Big Red wrestlers. When he showed up as a freshman, he could hold his own with the same guy. By the time the season started, Dake was winning.

"I thought, 'Boy, if that learning curve continues, he's certainly capable of not only placing in the national championship but winning a national championship.'"

Or, more accurately, three championships at three different levels. Koll calls it "a remarkable accomplishment" because the wrestling at each weight is different -- much more physical at 165 than 141, he says -- and he exposes himself to many more styles. Also, each season he faces established stars, including national champions.

This season, for instance, if Dake wants to win the 165-pound class, he's going to have to beat David Taylor of Penn State, the 2012 champion and Dan Hodge Trophy winner (wrestling's version of the Heisman Trophy).

But Koll says Dake is like nobody he's ever had in 24 years of coaching -- and he's had 10 national champions and 45 All-Americans.

Koll ticks off Dake's wrestling abilities -- quickness, balance, strength, explosiveness -- but says what may be even more important is the brawn of his brain.

Around Cornell, however, there will be surprise if he doesn't win in March.

Dake believes he's wrestling better than he ever has, and Koll says he's never seen an athlete who gets excited for a new challenge more than Dake.

Koll recalls how during his own career, he'd get so nervous before a match that he'd throw up. He sees the same type of nervousness in most athletes. Dake, on the other hand, gets an "exuberance and joy."

Even jumping up to the 165-pound class and going against Taylor is an exciting prospect for Dake, says Koll.

Dake, who counts Taylor as a friend -- and who beat Taylor in a highly anticipated matchup at the Southern Scuffle in January -- was eager for this season's test.

"David's a great wrestler, a returning Hodge Trophy winner, returning national champion who just absolutely dominated everyone last year," says Dake. "I knew it would be a great challenge for me to go up another weight class, but I was willing to take on that challenge and prove what I've got."

Yet even a fourth title will put him short of his goal four years ago, when he took aim at Sanderson's 159-0 record.

"Yeah, I wanted to go undefeated and win four national titles in four years," Dake says. "But you know I'm going to have to settle for four national titles, I guess."

ESPN.com - Titles one of wrestler Dake's many routines

Cornell's Kyle Dake could win his fourth NCAA title -- in four different weight classes -- next month.

THERE ARE THREE TYPES OF WRESTLERS IN THE WADSWORTH WRESTLING PROGRAM:

1. THE WRESTLERS WHO MAKE THINGS HAPPEN.
2. THE WRESTLERS WHO WAIT FOR THINGS TO HAPPEN.
3. THE WRESTLERS WHO ASK WHAT JUST HAPPENED.

WHAT KIND OF WRESTLER WILL YOU
BE IN 2013-14?

Dear Wrestlers, Little Sis, and Parents,

Banquet 2013

Introductions/Thankyou's

To my most thoughtful and lovely wife, Cindy Thanks to my wife for making all this work and assisting me in so many ways. Without her, I know I wouldn't be here celebrating another great year.

This is a special night to recognize the 2012-13 Championship wrestling team, managers, stats, little sis, parents, and coaches. But before any proceedings begin: Congratulations on a superb season! 15-2/7-0 SL. Yes, you were part of the 21 straight SL championships. No one can take that away from you ever. You all are big reasons why the Wadsworth Wrestling is so successful. Varsity B, JV's, and Frosh you had a great year! Keep working toward a varsity position. Remember some of you that lettered this year will be ready to step up to the Varsity. Freshmen,- you all were fantastic. You did everything we asked of you. Now challenge the eighth graders to do the same. They also have the makings of a winner. Remember no one can measure heart and determination. All underclassmen should stick together and win another team State Championship. You all have the determination and desire to have excellent high school careers .

To the coaches: Thanks to the Youth Coaches: Todd Baughman -last year and so many more. (2nd in the State)

Over 150 participants the Junior High Coaches: Larry Kaufman and Josh Hendricks providing the wrestlers with the basics and love of the sport. We as a coaching staff would be foolish not to realize that our successes are linked directly to the youth and middle school. especially both coming in early and running AM workouts.

Club coach Coach Mike Wenger Freestyle coach Coach Clay Wenger and Mark Berg To all the coaches thanks for providing the right atmosphere to balance the intensity with the fun of the sport of wrestling. To the coaches for all their extra enthusiasm they bring in the room.

High School Coaches: Matt Shiarla, Matt Hulme, and Kip Shipley

To our Volunteer coaches: Jason Friedt, Jeff Rager, and Greg McElroy

To our Alumni coaches: Cory and Brandon Jones, Brad and Kagan Squire, Luke Busson, Clay Wenger. and Zak Kallai

To our Tournament Director; Coordinator, and Treasurer: Sam Brandenburg, Al Baughman, and Matt Swartzbaugh. We really appreciate your help. These added eyes and hands have propel us to the next level.: Thanks for your work, so we can have a great program. Without you we would not have accomplished so much this year. The extra fundraisers have helped fund the new kettlebells and sleds that we will use to implement the posterior chain method of lifting.

To Doctor Papas and Dr Bupp : Thanks for all your medical attention to our wrestlers this year. Dr Papas- emergency runs to the high school at late notice. Call from the stands Without some of your notes and other attention some of our wrestlers would not have wrestled. Thanks to your wife, Barbara and your children for understanding our crazy schedule. Dr. Bupp-with your assistance and immediate care we are healed much quicker and able to perform sooner. Thank you both.

To our trainer Ron Burdette for all your time setting up the second official weight certification, working the GIT,OAC Duals, and Youth tourneys. Not only did they keeping us safe and heathy, but were also a loyal backer.

Thanks so much 10 SENIORS: ABDUH ABDUHLHABIB, JACK BERTUZZI, WES COPELAND, CHRIS GEORGE, BILLY HATFIELD, ALEXINFANTINO, AUSTIN KNIGHT, DARYK MAKI, RONNIE TISDAL, and MATHIAS ZOLLINGER, You have kept up the Championship tradition-21 in a row. ! 2 to states; Part of a State Championship as a freshman and top 10 finish-18 out of last 20 years. You have continued the tradition of hardwork, sacrifice and respect. Remember juniors, sophomore, freshmen how they led by example and try to do the same in the years to come. Good luck in college. Be sure to stop and say hello. You are a Grizzly forever!

To the PARENTS: Thanks for allowing your son and daughter to dare the chance at succes and failure, but learn how to work hard and the chance can turn into a lifetime of victory. It is not always easy sitting in the stands watching your son struggle to victory or defeat, but in the end know that he is better just having tried it. (We saw all the great media coverage this year including articles and pictures). Thank you for your extra time moving in and out of the old building to Lincoln and Middle School into the new building etc. and then the regular season at the OAC JH DUALS, GIT, AND YOUTH TOURNAMENTS (Hospitality room, Scoretables, bullpen, security, concessions, and cleanup) preparing special meals, putting up with your moody sons and daughters, late night phone calls for rides, sudden change in the schedule, handling the pressures of the matches, keeping your faith in us as coaches and then going to the State Tournament. Thanks for keeping hte egos out of the wrestling family. Without your dedication your son and daughter would not be as successful. Our success reflects your time and effort.

To some of our parents who went beyond the call of duty: ZOLLINGER FAMILY, SQUIRE FAMILY, GEORGE FAMILY, ALLISON KNIGHT, JEN GRAY, KNIPL FAMILY for all the team dinners, water, snacks at North Canton, BIT, GIT, Suburban, Medina Sectionals; CINDY GRAMUGLIA GIT concessions and program ads.; JULIE ZOLLINGER State hotel accommodations, GAIL BUZZELLI as GIT ad program director.

Thanks for all your time washing mats, running the clock, getting water, traveling to all the away tournaments and keeping all the necessary stats, but especially thanks for all the memories. You had a super year with some memorable victories. You have all made your mark on Wadsworth Wrestling forever. Good Luck in the future and in college. Be sure to visit us and help the others. Thanks for all your time in helping us with all the necessities to keep a state level program going. You do so much behind the scenes that go unnoticed. We might not always say it, but we really need you and appreciate all that you do.

JV/Frosh Wrestlers: To the Juniors, Sophomores, Freshmen: (KIP SHIPLEY, MATT SHIARLA, AND MATT HULME) I hope you have learned from these varsity wrestlers. The years have gone by so fast. Their handwork and dedication has certainly paid off. Your job is to continue the excellence and keep the tradition going. Most of these varsity wrestlers have also excelled in the classroom and will go on to be successful in college and life. Keep your goals high and set your priorities of hard work in the off season. Do not become discouraged if your season did not turn out the way you wanted. You will see a dramatic improvement next year. Most of this year's high school varsity team did not have a winning record or wrestled on Varsity while in the 9th or 10th grade. Get to some tournaments, open mats, and camps this spring and summer and you will be pinning your opponents next year. You have the nucleus to carry on the tradition of the great Wadsworth teams that have gone before. Just continue to do it!

Closing comments: Coach Gramuglia

FINAL THOUGHTS: We had a great journey with lots of good memories. We didn't place in the top ten the State of Ohio out of 177 teams.. but Even after some early injuries, football players getting into shape and only two losses to St Edward and Brecksville, you kept believing and trusting in me and the coaches and the program. We do have the formula, we just have to follow it. Yes, we had memorable year. 21 in a row. BLACKJACK. But it is time with our new school and new room to keep the excellence and remember To Believe in each other when it gets uncomfortable. This was by far a year in which the parents trusted the coaches and program that we are doing the right thing and avoided the controversy and spread less gossip and took ownership in Wadsworth wrestling. We have a great things going here that most communities are jealous of. People are jealous about Wadsworth. We became the 1st public school to win a State title since 1977 Nordononia team. But we have the target on our back. We will not sneak up on any body including St. Edward. We are in position to regroup this summer and keep our program on top. It doesn't matter what role you play- Little Sis, Stat, parent, coach, freshmen wrestler, JV, Varsity, SL champ, Sectional Champ, District Qualifier, State Qualifier, State Placer, State Champ, We are all do our part to maintain and propel our program even further. We need to keep the excellence by remembering even if it deals you a bad card once in awhile. Everyone matters! And everyone will benefit from the experience. We need to remember this in tough times when things aren't going as planned. Keep our petty problems from interfering from the total picture. Things will become more difficult as we continue to grow. Keep communicating and remain positive.

Let's be ENERGY GIVERS NOT ENERGY TAKERS.

We need to use the power and magic we felt at the State to bring us more together than ever before, work harder than ever before- WHS camp, Jeff Jordan's team Camp or Kent State team competition camp, open mats, freestyle and weightlifting. We are going to continue with our weight program MW in MArch, April and May and then 6:55AM in the summer at the HS. We will continue to tweek and improve our weight program. We will continue to use freestyle and open mats as a great learning tool to catch up or stay ahead.

Yet we still need to remember is the special ingredient that we have learned from the entire experience the past years- Handling and dealing with adversity. Because struggling makes the wins mean more and the championships more special. Be determined not frustrated. Have less distractions and more loyalty. Keep the excellence by trying to do it a little better and When it gets uncomfortable: Believe in yourself! Believe in your teammates! Believe in your coaches! That team togetherness, unity and toughness gave us ...

ENERGY TAKERS: Wrestlers who need to be motivated

Energy Takers are pretenders who ask to be constantly convinced. Energy Takers need to be talked-up with emotional rhetoric, tricked into giving it their all. Energy Takers do not appreciate their God-given gifts; sadly, they do not know how to show gratitude or respect. Energy Takers are like spoiled children; they seek attention in all the wrong ways and for all the wrong reasons. Energy Takers are selfish individuals who expect to be served by others. Energy Takers demand everything from everyone, but, inexplicably, they require nothing of themselves. Energy Takers exhibit an undeniable sense of entitlement; they are aimlessly driven by ego. Energy Takers sabotage winning, undermining in subtle and passive ways. Energy Takers alienate, discourage, and divide their teammates; and they frustrate, exhaust, and suffocate their coaches and teammates

ENERGY GIVERS: Wrestlers who are driven

Energy Givers are authentic individuals who live faith-based lives. Energy Givers invest 100% of themselves; they recognize the unforgiving nature of gifted time. Energy Givers treat their bodies like temples; they attack training with relentlessness and a focus that inspires others. Energy Givers have a sense of duty to the players who have come before them; they appreciate tradition and relish in the idea of linking the past to the future. Energy Givers are quick to recognize others, and they humbly go about accepting a role that strengthens the group and takes advantage of individual talents. Energy Givers are unselfish players who pay attention to detail; they rebound, defend, dive on the floor, deflect passes, set solid screens, take charges, and purposefully and positively communicate. Energy Givers own their mistakes and recognize their weaknesses; they seek out those who will hold them accountable to the highest of standards. Energy Givers lead, encourage, and unite teammates; and they support, energize, and trust their coaches and teammates.

“The SCHOTT” 2013 State Tournament

GRIZZLY SCHOTT RECAP:

State Champion, placer, qualifier, or spectator? Will the 2013-2014 team members be bringing home another title or banner from the beautiful Ohio State arena...or buying a seat with a great view in the “Schott”?

This was the 15th year for “The Schott” to rock with Grizzly Power. Placing 55th in the State with 6 points, the 2012-13 Grizzlies qualified 2 wrestlers. with 1 STATE PLACER: Mathias Zollinger 8th; while STATE Qualifier: Timmy Knipl won a match. Both wrestlers won a total of 3 matches with 5 losses.
